

Dr Siti Hawa Tahir

Head of Unit, Arthroscopy and Sports Injury Unit,

Dept of Orthopaedics and Traumatology,

Hospital Kuala Lumpur

Dr Siti Hawa is an orthopaedic consultant currently working in Orthopaedic and Traumatology Department of Hospital Kuala Lumpur (HKL). She obtained her medical degree from University of Malaya, and then her Masters in Orthopaedic from National University of Malaysia .

Subsequently she did her fellowship training in Arthroscopy and Sports Surgery in Hospital Kuala Lumpur (HKL) and spent almost a year in Seoul, South Korea from 2007 till 2008 in the field of Knee Surgery under the guidance of Professor Young Bok Jung at Chung-Ang University Hospital at Samsung Medical Center (and partially Professor Ahn Jin Hwan) , and also Shoulder and Elbow Surgery under the guidance of Professor Park Jin Young at Konkuk University Hospital.

She's currently the head of Arthroscopy and Sports Injury Unit of Dept of Orthopaedics in HKL since 2010 and has been actively involved in the fellowship training program under the Ministry of Health (MOH) of Malaysia. She's currently holding the post of Deputy Chairperson of National Orthopaedic Subspecialty fellowship program in Arthroscopy and Sports Surgery.

She has vast experience in managing complex knee injuries and shoulder problems and among her greatest passion is for reconstructive work involving the knee and shoulder mainly in the aspect of preservation and biological reconstruction.